Winter 2026 Highlights

- American soprano Julia Bullock and cellist Seth Parker Woods join pianist Conor Hanick for a classical collaboration with a bold twist, showcasing songs by Maurice Ravel and Tania León and contemporary favorites by George Gershwin and Nine Simone.
- The University's Don Michael Randel Ensemble-in-Residence, Trio Mediæval, sings enchanting medieval tunes from Hildegard von Bingen and the Messe de Tournai in the stunning acoustics of Rockefeller Memorial Chapel.
- Drawing from deep-rooted Indigenous musical traditions and the untold legacy of Native jazz pioneers, the Julia Keefe Indigenous Jazz Ensemble transforms traditional songs and rhythms into bold new jazz works.

- A quintet of musicians from the **Chicago Symphony Orchestra** explores climate change in a program featuring Christopher Stark's Vivaldi-inspired Seasonal Music, Esa-Pekka Salonen's Homunculus, and Korngold's romantic Piano Quintet in E Major.
- **3 Shades of Blues** brings together three major voices in blues – Diunna Greenleaf, Nora Jean Wallace, and Precious Taylor – for one night of soul-shaking solos, storytelling, and sisterhood.
- **Concert organist Lynne Davis** brings the grandeur of French organ music to life on Bond Chapel's Reneker Organ with a program of Bach, Alain, Du Mage, and more.
- **The Grossman Ensemble** premieres four works hot off the press, debuting works by composers Theo Chandler, Kyong Mee Choi, Phil Pierick, and David W. Sanford under the baton of David Bloom.

CHICAGO – University of Chicago Presents (UCP), the University of Chicago's premier performing arts series, continues its 82nd season with seven concerts in the Winter 2026 quarter. A cultural cornerstone on campus and across the city, UChicago Presents unites world-class artists with the vibrant Chicago community.

UChicago Presents is a space where community and curiosity meet. This winter's concerts highlight voices from near—such as a piano quintet from the fan favorite Chicago Symphony Orchestra—and far, including Oslo-based vocal ensemble Trio Mediaeval. Underrepresented voices are also spotlighted this winter, with performances by GRAMMY-winning soprano Julia Bullock, cellist Seth Parker Woods, and pianist Conor Hanick exploring works by composers Florence Price, Nina Simone, George Walker, and more; and the Julia Keefe Indigenous Jazz Ensemble claiming the place of Indigenous musicians in jazz's past, present, and future. Performances are held on the University of Chicago campus, featuring four historic venues: the Reva and David Logan Center for the Arts, Mandel Hall, Bond Chapel, and Rockefeller Memorial Chapel, with genres spanning classical, jazz, new music, early music, and global music.

The programs presented on UCP's stages this winter invite concert goers to discover how deeply music can shape the human experience.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESENTS

Established in 1943, The University of Chicago Presents series brings extraordinary artists from around the world to Chicago. Artists engage with audiences, scholars, and students in dynamic live performances, educational and enrichment experiences, and community engagement activities through an eclectic mix of chamber music and recitals, early, contemporary, jazz, blues, and global music, including artist residencies, commissions, and premieres.

The University of Chicago Presents concert series endeavors to present music on an intimate scale at the highest level, creating for audiences of all ages and walks of life experiences that transform, entertain, educate, and enlighten, inspiring a powerful sense of shared humanity. Advancing the values of its home at the University, UCP engages all—the student, the Nobel Laureate, the uninitiated, the dedicated musician, and everyone in-between—to nurture curiosity through great music-making.
